Any individual that becomes Restricted Entity Committee Personnel shall only thereafter be considered as such and subject to the terms, duties, and obligations hereof until such person is no longer in possession of Subject Materials.

3. So long as a Restricted Entity implements and adheres to the Information Blocking Procedures set forth in this Order, they shall not be deemed to have violated any fiduciary duties as a Member and, accordingly, any claims held by such Restricted Entity against the Debtors will not be subject to possible disallowance, subordination or other adverse treatment and allowance of such claim will not be impacted in any manner as a result of such Restricted Entity's trading and analyst activities.

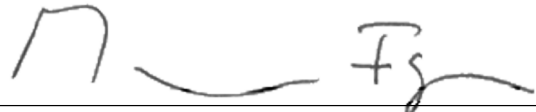

4. This Order does not preclude the Court from taking any action that it may deem appropriate in the event that the Court determines that an actual breach of fiduciary duty has occurred as a result of a defect in, or the ineffectiveness of, the implementation of the Information Blocking Procedures approved herein.

5. This Order shall apply only to those Members that are engaged in the activities described in clauses 1(a)(i) or (ii) above.

6. This Court shall retain jurisdiction to hear all matters regarding compliance with, and interpretation of, this Order and any other matters related hereto.
