Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)
(made applicable in bankruptcy cases by Rule 9016, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure)

(c) Place of compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, or electronically stored information, or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises, at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

B. General Definitions

1. “Document(s)” shall have the full meaning ascribed to it under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and shall include, without limitation, all emails, text messages, instant messages, “tweets,” voicemails, and any items in computer or other electronic storage.

2. “Communication(s)” shall mean any oral, written, electronic, or other transfer of information, ideas, opinions, or thoughts by any means from or to any person, thing, or entity, including, but not limited to, discussions, conversations, meetings, conferences, correspondence, memoranda, telephone calls or messages, facsimile transmissions, or any other form of transmittal of information of any kind.

3. “Relate,” “relating,” or “regarding” shall mean evidencing, memorializing, comprising, connected with, mentioning, describing, containing, enumerating, involving or in any way concerning, pertaining, being connected with, reflecting upon, or resulting from a stated subject matter whether in whole or in part or directly or indirectly.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. The Documents and Communications requested herein shall be produced as they are kept in the usual course of business, except that they shall be organized and labeled to correspond with the categories set forth in this document request. Your duty to produce Documents or Communications shall not be limited or affected by the fact that the same Document or Communication is available through another source. If there are no Documents or Communications responsive to a particular request, so state in writing.

2. In responding to these Requests, you are required to furnish all information that is available to you or subject to your reasonable inquiry, including, without limitation, information in the possession of your affiliates, employees, attorneys, accountants, advisors, agents, representatives or other persons directly or indirectly employed by or connected with you, and anyone else otherwise subject to your control.

3. All Documents and Communications that respond, in whole or in part, to any portion of the Requests below shall be produced in their entirety, including all attachments and enclosures.

4. Documents or Communications not otherwise responsive to this Request should be produced if such Documents or Communications refer to, relate to, or explain the Documents or Communications called for by the document request or if such Documents or Communications are attached Documents or Communications called for by the request and constitute routing slips, transmittal memoranda or letters, comments, evaluations, or similar Documents or Communications.

5. If any Document or Communication is known to exist but cannot be produced, that Document or Communication is to be specifically identified as precisely as possible and the reasons for the inability to produce the Document or Communication stated.

6. In the event that a Document or Communication called for by a Document request has been destroyed, the response hereto shall identify: the preparer of the Document or Communication; its addressor (if different), addressee, each recipient thereof; each person to whom it was distributed or shown; the date it was prepared; the date it was transmitted (if different); the date it was received; a description of its contents and subject matter; the date of its destruction; the manner of its destruction; the name, title, and address of person authorizing its destruction; the reason(s) for its destruction; the name, title, and address of the person destroying the Document or Communication; and a description of efforts to locate the Document or Communication and copies of it.

7. If you withhold a Document or Communication on claim of privilege, identify:

a. The name(s) of the author(s) of the Document or Communication;

- b. The name(s) of the addressee(s) and all others who have received or read the Document or Communication;
- c. The names of those who have knowledge of the matters contained in the Document or Communication;
- d. The job title of each individual identified in (i), (ii), and (iii) above;
- e. The date of the Document or Communication;
- f. The present location of the Document or Communication and all copies of it;
- g. The name of each and every person having custody or control of the Document and all copies of it;
- h. A brief description of the nature and subject matter of the Document or Communication; and
- i. The nature and basis of the privilege.

8. The singular number and masculine gender as used herein shall embrace, and be read and applied as, the plural or the feminine or the neuter, as the circumstances may make appropriate, and in order to make the request inclusive rather than exclusive.

9. “Any” includes the word “all” and “all” includes the word “any.” The disjunctive includes the conjunctive and vice versa as necessary to bring within the scope of these Requests Documents or Communications that might otherwise be considered to be beyond its scope.

10. These Requests are continuing in nature. You have a duty to seasonably supplement any prior response to the extent information, objects, or tangible things come into your possession, custody, or control or become known to you.

11. Unless otherwise specified, the relevant time period for each Request is January 1, 2017 to the present.

12. If a Document or Communication responsive to any of these Requests has already been produced, identify:

- a. The name or subject matter of the Document or Communication;

- b. The date on which the Document or Communication was produced;
- c. The persons to whom they were produced; and
- d. The Request(s) to which the Document or Communication is responsive.

REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)
(made applicable in bankruptcy cases by Rule 9016, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure)

(c) Place of compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, or electronically stored information, or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises, at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. The Documents and Communications requested herein shall be produced as they are kept in the usual course of business, except that they shall be organized and labeled to correspond with the categories set forth in this document request. Your duty to produce Documents or Communications shall not be limited or affected by the fact that the same Document or Communication is available through another source. If there are no Documents or Communications responsive to a particular request, so state in writing.

2. In responding to these Requests, you are required to furnish all information that is available to you or subject to your reasonable inquiry, including, without limitation, information in the possession of your affiliates, employees, attorneys, accountants, advisors, agents, representatives or other persons directly or indirectly employed by or connected with you, and anyone else otherwise subject to your control.

3. All Documents and Communications that respond, in whole or in part, to any portion of the Requests below shall be produced in their entirety, including all attachments and enclosures.

4. Documents or Communications not otherwise responsive to this Request should be produced if such Documents or Communications refer to, relate to, or explain the Documents or Communications called for by the document request or if such Documents or Communications are attached Documents or Communications called for by the request and constitute routing slips, transmittal memoranda or letters, comments, evaluations, or similar Documents or Communications.

5. If any Document or Communication is known to exist but cannot be produced, that Document or Communication is to be specifically identified as precisely as possible and the reasons for the inability to produce the Document or Communication stated.

6. In the event that a Document or Communication called for by a Document request has been destroyed, the response hereto shall identify: the preparer of the Document or Communication; its addressor (if different), addressee, each recipient thereof; each person to whom it was distributed or shown; the date it was prepared; the date it was transmitted (if different); the date it was received; a description of its contents and subject matter; the date of its destruction; the manner of its destruction; the name, title, and address of person authorizing its destruction; the reason(s) for its destruction; the name, title, and address of the person destroying the Document or Communication; and a description of efforts to locate the Document or Communication and copies of it.

7. If you withhold a Document or Communication on claim of privilege, identify:
- a. The name(s) of the author(s) of the Document or Communication;

- b. The name(s) of the addressee(s) and all others who have received or read the Document or Communication;
- c. The names of those who have knowledge of the matters contained in the Document or Communication;
- d. The job title of each individual identified in (i), (ii), and (iii) above;
- e. The date of the Document or Communication;
- f. The present location of the Document or Communication and all copies of it;
- g. The name of each and every person having custody or control of the Document and all copies of it;
- h. A brief description of the nature and subject matter of the Document or Communication; and
- i. The nature and basis of the privilege.

8. The singular number and masculine gender as used herein shall embrace, and be read and applied as, the plural or the feminine or the neuter, as the circumstances may make appropriate, and in order to make the request inclusive rather than exclusive.

9. “Any” includes the word “all” and “all” includes the word “any.” The disjunctive includes the conjunctive and vice versa as necessary to bring within the scope of these Requests Documents or Communications that might otherwise be considered to be beyond its scope.

10. These Requests are continuing in nature. You have a duty to seasonably supplement any prior response to the extent information, objects, or tangible things come into your possession, custody, or control or become known to you.

11. Unless otherwise specified, the relevant time period for each Request is January 1, 2017 to the present.

12. If a Document or Communication responsive to any of these Requests has already been produced, identify:

- a. The name or subject matter of the Document or Communication;

- b. The date on which the Document or Communication was produced;
- c. The persons to whom they were produced; and
- d. The Request(s) to which the Document or Communication is responsive.
